London Marathon's approaching, and it's important people are active and fundraising, especially before the console deadline in March. Check in with our training, nutrition, and recovery tips to keep them feeling great.

Hi [First Name],

Happy New Year! Your marathon's just a few months away, it's the perfect time to focus your training and fundraising goals.

As your training ramps up, check out JustGiving's Running for Good Hub. It's packed with training, nutrition, and recovery tips to help you stay strong: <https://www.justgiving.com/hub/running-for-good>.

And to keep your fundraising moving too, why not break up your target into weekly goals? For example, if your target is £2,000 and there are 10 weeks to go, that's just £200 a week. Way more doable!

Keep up the good work.

When to send: One day before London Marathon

One more day! Send your fundraisers a final pre-race update to make sure they know what to expect, where to find you, and to amp up the excitement before their big moment.

Hi [First Name],

One more sleep until RACE DAY! Here's what you need to know for tomorrow:

- Lay out your bib and your running gear tonight so you have less to think about tomorrow! Then share a photo and a link to your Fundraising Page on social for some last-minute donations.
- We'll be at [location] cheering you on in-person, so stop by before or after the race to meet the team.
- We'd love to see your photos, so tag us on social media [your charity's social media handles] so we can share and celebrate with you.
- If you have any questions, contact [Name], our [Role], who will be on site to help.

See you there. Now go smash it!
